

Terms & Conditions

The following Conference Terms and Conditions (“Event Terms”) apply to Your participation in the Informatica World Tour (the “Conference”). These Event Terms apply to all participants at the Conference, including exhibitors, sponsors, and attendees. Given the evolving nature of the COVID-19 pandemic, related health and safety terms are subject to change.

COVID-19 Regulatory Considerations

Your well-being is our priority. Here’s what we’re doing to protect your health and peace of mind so you can focus on getting down to business.

We will abide by industry best practices for live events while also adhering to guidelines published by the CDC, WHO, local health authorities and the event venue to allow guests to come together safely.

- Informatica will not require proof of vaccination for customer attendees or contracted staff.
- Employees of Informatica must be vaccinated to attend, in accordance with Informatica’s travel and events policy.
- We ask that all attendees self-test 24 hours prior to the event, and stay home if test positive or experience any symptoms.
- We recommend that attendees check and follow local health guidance to determine any additional requirements or restrictions.

WAIVER: An inherent risk of exposure to COVID-19 exists in any public place where people are present. COVID-19 is an extremely contagious disease that can lead to severe illness and death. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, senior citizens and Guests with underlying medical conditions are especially vulnerable. By attending this event you voluntarily assume all risks related to exposure to COVID-19. Informatica will continue to monitor local case infections. Changes in CDC or local guidance may cause Informatica to postpone or modify the event based on the ability to safely gather.

Our Promise:

Informatica promises forthright communication based on guidelines set by the WHO/CDC and applicable local health authorities at the time of the event and will adhere to those guidelines. Our pandemic response team regularly reviews several key COVID-19-related metrics such as daily new infection rates to guide event safety decisions. We will continue monitoring public health guidance, such as WHO/CDC, and your peers to understand and implement controls that keep all attendees and staff safe.

Additional Resources:

- World Health Organization
- Centers for Disease Control

Badge Policy

- Badges may only be used by the Attendee named in the registration. When picking up a badge onsite at the Conference, photo ID will be required. Badges should be worn at all times during the Conference, and no sharing of badges is permitted.

Before the Conference

- In order to participate in the Conference, you must be at least 21 years of age.
- During the registration process, Informatica will ask for personal and company information and other preference information to help customize your event experience. This data is collected for planning purposes so we can not only ensure a successful event but an event that fulfills your interests. This data will be maintained, used, and shared in accordance with Informatica's Privacy Policy (for more details, see Privacy Policy below). Some data will be securely passed on to Informatica vendors providing planning and Conference-related services to Informatica, subject to Informatica's Privacy Policy. If You would prefer to opt out of such sharing, please email privacy@informatica.com.

At the Conference

- Informatica uses tools and services designed to enhance the Conference experience for attendees. For example, Informatica uses technology services to determine session attendance, deliver session surveys, manage session capacity, deliver webcasts, meetings, networking experiences and other Conference-related services, and for its own internal research and development. Informatica will not share Your personal information without your consent as indicated in the Informatica Privacy Policy.

- Attendees also have the option to utilize the Conference scheduling and mobile applications before and during the Conference.

Sponsor Badge Scanning

- At the Conference, sponsors may conduct badge scanning through Informatica's selected provider. Please note that should you choose to have your conference badge scanned by sponsors at Informatica World Tour, you are opting-in to receive communications from that sponsor regarding their products, services, and special offers in accordance with the sponsor's privacy policy. In the event that You later wish to opt out of receiving such communications, You must contact the sponsor to opt out with them directly per the sponsor's privacy policy. SPONSOR SCANNING OF ATTENDEE BADGES IS OPTIONAL AND ATTENDEES MAY OPT OUT OF HAVING THEIR BADGES SCANNED WITHOUT PENALTY.

Privacy Policy

- By registering, you are authorizing Informatica to contact you about Informatica products, services, events and information related to Informatica World Tour.
- Your name, contact information, and all other data provided in connection with the Conference, including any personal information provided to Informatica World Tour Vendors performing Conference services on Informatica's behalf, may be used and processed in accordance with the Informatica Privacy Policy, which is incorporated into these Event Terms by reference.
- You may opt out of receiving Informatica promotional communications by emailing Informatica at privacy@informatica.com or by managing your email preferences at <https://now.informatica.com/UnsubscribePage.html>. Please note that if you opt out of receiving promotional communications, Informatica may still send you transactional or relationship messages, such as those regarding your account and ongoing business relations.

Modification of the Conference Program

- Informatica reserves the right to modify the program. Sessions may be subject to capacity restrictions. Informatica does not guarantee access to any particular session and shall have no liability to attendees who are unable to attend a full session.

No Liability

- Informatica will not be liable for damages of any nature sustained by attendees or accompanying persons, or loss of, or damage to their personal property as a result of the Conference or related events.

Photography & Video Release

- Informatica uses social media and third-party technology, such as Zoom, to create, record and post Conference content including photos and videos. By attending the Conference, Attendee acknowledges and agrees that Informatica may edit and use recorded video and session content, online streaming, and photographs of Conference events and attendees in its Conference media feeds and promotional materials, in addition to its internal use. Informatica leverages third party professional service providers to provide video, streaming, and photography services to provide the Conference experience. Unless permission to record and use such images is revoked in writing to Informatica, with a means to identify the individual sending the revocation, by virtue of their attendance, all Conference visitors agree to the use of their likeness in such materials. Further, due to the prevalence of recording devices, Informatica disclaims liability for the recording or capture of your image or voice by another attendee at the Conference.
- Photography or Recording; Usage of Conference Information by Attendees. In order to comply with global data privacy laws, Informatica may impose certain restrictions on the use of multimedia at the Conference. Please refrain from the use of cameras and mobile recording devices anywhere where signs prohibiting their use are present, including during Conference sessions. However, attendees are encouraged to post their own social content regarding their Conference experiences in permitted areas of the Conference provided that such content does not defame any person, infringe upon another's intellectual property rights, including any copyright of Informatica, or violate the Conference Code of Conduct.
- Any other use of photography, audio recordings, and video recordings by attendees is not permitted without the prior written consent of Informatica. All information learned or observed by an attendee in relation to the Conference, including but not limited to keynote speeches, session presentations, and names or company names of other attendees ("Conference Information"), is for attendees' personal use or internal business purposes only. Attendees may not publish, distribute, sell, post on the internet/intranet, or otherwise make available any Conference Information without receiving prior written consent from Informatica.

Conference Code of Conduct

Informatica implements these guidelines below to promote a safe and enjoyable experience for all Conference participants. In order to accomplish this, Informatica requests your cooperation to:

- Demonstrate a respectful and courteous demeanor towards other attendees and Conference participants.
- Promptly notify Conference staff of any concerning issue.
- Please refrain from:
 - Engaging in disruptive or disrespectful behavior.
 - Using demeaning, harassing, abusive, or threatening actions or remarks, whether at the Conference or in an online forum.
 - Posting offensive, obscene, or objectionable content.
 - Posting copyrighted material without permission.
 - Soliciting attendees for commercial or advertising purposes without Informatica's consent.
- Abide by all fire, safety, and health regulations of the local, city, state, conference hotels, and convention centers where the Conference is held. Attendee must comply with all applicable federal, state, local laws and ordinances, as well as Informatica Conference Code of Conduct below or as may be provided or explained to Attendee. Attendees in violation of such rules and/or who behave in an unsafe or careless manner while attending the Conference may be asked to leave and be barred from returning without refund of the Attendee's registration fee. Further, Attendee agrees to defend, indemnify, and hold harmless Informatica, the Conference hotel and/or event space where the Conference is being held, and their respective employees, officers, directors, and agents against all third-party claims, losses, or damages to persons or property, governmental charges or fines, and costs (including reasonable attorney's fees) arising out of or connected to Attendee's breach of these policies.
- If you (or another individual) have been impacted by a failure to adhere to this Code of Conduct, please contact an Informatica Conference staff member or email the Informatica World Tour team for further assistance.

Informatica World Tour

- Any violation of this Code of Conduct may result in suspension or removal from the conference environment. Informatica reserves the right to prohibit any individual from registering or attending future conferences for Code of Conduct violations. Further, Attendee agrees to defend, indemnify, and hold harmless
- Informatica, and their respective employees, officers, directors, and agents against all third-party claims, losses, or damages to persons or property, governmental charges or fines, and costs (including reasonable attorney's fees) arising out of or connected to Attendee's breach of these policies.

Informatica World Tour Support Team

Email: NA_events@informatica.com